Montco Planning Commission Seeks Entries for 2014 Montgomery Awards

Norristown, PA (March 19, 2014) – The Montgomery County Planning Commission (MCPC) is seeking nominations for its 2014 Montgomery Awards. This annual program recognizes the best in planning, design, and advocacy in Montgomery County and acknowledges the high quality work and commitment of communities, organizations, and professionals. It promotes awareness of outstanding design and innovative planning in Montgomery County communities by awarding successful land developments, revitalization efforts, open space enhancements, environmental sustainability, and transportation improvements.

The program has been expanded this year to include a Planning Advocate Award, which recognizes an engaged citizen, appointed/elected official or board, or community organization that has made significant contributions to advancing or promoting planning in Montgomery County. Any individual, group, or organization that has demonstrated an outstanding leadership role in promoting excellence in planning and has contributed to community improvement in Montgomery County is eligible. This award is specifically designed to recognize the exceptional work being done by volunteers, public officials, and nonprofit groups/organizations.

All nominations must be submitted by April 25, 2014. Eligibility and award criteria, nomination requirements, and an online entry form are available at www.montcopa.org/MontgomeryAwards.

Winning projects are selected by a committee consisting of members from the Montgomery County Planning Commission Board. Award recipients are honored at an awards presentation, and winning projects are featured in publications and on the Montgomery County Planning Commission (MCPC) website.
