Two “Conversations” on Montco Commissioners Agenda Next Week; Sessions Set For Bryn Mawr and Lower Pottsgrove

Norristown, PA (March 27, 2015) – The Montgomery County Commissioners will hold two more of their scheduled six “Conversations with your Commissioners” next week.

On Monday, March 30, the commissioners will be at Ludington Library, 5 South Bryn Mawr Avenue in Bryn Mawr at 7 p.m. for a wide ranging conversation on county issues. On Thursday, April 2 at 7 p.m., the commissioners will travel to Sunnybrook Ballroom, 50 North Sunnybrook Road in Lower Pottsgrove Township.

These two town hall meetings are the fourth and fifth in the series of six. Previously, the commissioners held sessions in Ambler, Abington, and Norristown. The final “Conversation” will take place on Monday, April 13 at 7 p.m. at the Grand Theater, 252 Main Street in East Greenville.

The series of town hall meetings give residents of the county the opportunity to discuss any county-related issues with the commissioners.

“The first two series of conversations proved to us how large and diverse our wonderful county is,” said Josh Shapiro, chair of the commissioners. “While residents throughout the county want their county government to be responsive and efficient, there was a wide range of issues raised depending on the part of the county we were visiting, and gave the commissioners a real sense of what issues were on people’s minds.”
