Montgomery County Planning Commission Seeks Nominations for 2016 Montgomery Awards

Norristown, PA (March 2, 2016) – The Montgomery County Planning Commission (MCPC) is looking for the best in planning, design, and advocacy in Montgomery County and invites the public to submit nominations for the 2016 Montgomery Awards Program.

This annual program promotes awareness of outstanding design and innovative planning in communities within the county. It acknowledges the high quality of work and commitment of communities, organizations, and professionals in contributing to these excellent projects.

MCPC is in search of land development projects, including residential, office, commercial, and institutional developments, that exemplify good site design such as building placement, project context, parking and circulation, pedestrian amenities, landscaping, and sustainable design practices.

The county is also looking for nominations of an individual or organization that has made significant and sustained contributions to advancing or promoting planning in Montgomery County for consideration of a Planning Advocate Award.

“This award program is a great opportunity to highlight the people and organizations that demonstrate a commitment to good planning and are responsible for bringing excellent projects to fruition in Montgomery County,” said Jody L. Holton, AICP, Executive Director of the Montgomery County Planning Commission.

Information on the program, past award winners, eligibility and nomination requirements, and an entry form are available at www.montcopa.org/MontgomeryAwards.

Winning projects are selected by a committee consisting of members from the Montgomery County Planning Commission Board, and award recipients are honored at an awards presentation.
