NORRISTOWN, Pa. (Nov. 8, 2018) — On the 25th anniversary of Julie Barnyock's disappearance from a Lansdale train station, Montgomery County District Attorney Kevin R. Steele and Lansdale Police Chief Michael B. Trail request the public's assistance in solving the 1993 murder and remind the public that the $10,000 reward remains available to anyone who provides information that leads to the arrest and conviction of her killer.

"Twenty-five years ago, a teenager went missing, and we want to bring her killer to justice and provide some closure for her family," said Steele. "Our detectives continue to go over this case, looking for anything that could help us. Now we are again asking for the public's help. Someone knows something. Please come forward with whatever piece of info about Julie's movements that day or anything someone might have seen that night at the train station. I've seen many old cases solved when someone comes forward with something that on the surface seems insignificant but it turns out to be a key puzzle piece in finding a murderer.”

The facts of Barnyock's disappearance are: at approximately 11:40 p.m., on Monday, Nov. 8, 1993, the 18-year-old Barnyock arrived at the Lansdale Train Station on the R5 SEPTA train from Philadelphia. Barnyock used a pay phone to call her parents requesting a ride home. When her father arrived at the Lansdale train station, he was unable to locate his daughter. On Tuesday, Nov. 9, 1993, Julie Barnyock was reported missing by her parents to the New Britain Township Police. Three weeks later, on Dec. 2, 1993, Barnyock's body was discovered in the Lansdale SEPTA/Conrail freight yard. Autopsy findings revealed the cause of death was blunt force head injury, and the manner of death was homicide.

This remains an active investigation. Anyone with information is asked to call the Montgomery County Detective Bureau at 610-278-3368 or the Lansdale Police Department at 215-368-1801. If someone wants to provide information anonymously, anonymous tips can be texted using MontcoCrimeTips on the STOPit! app. The free STOPit! app can be downloaded from the App Store for iPhones or on Google Play for Androids, then enter the code: MONTCOPA.
