Public Safety News Information Sheet

What is Public Safety News?

Public Safety News, often referred to as PSN, is the monthly newsletter produced by the Montgomery County Department of Public Safety. It has been published since 2002 and is now in its 20th year in print.

Public Safety News contains important announcements from the Department of Public Safety for municipal responders, as well as training announcements, career opportunities, and other significant updates.

What are the Monthly Notices?

The Monthly Notices are formatted as a merged PDF that includes announcements for community events, training/education opportunities, fundraisers, and job offerings. Some content is provided by the Department of Public Safety, but most is received from municipalities and partner agencies. The notices are posted on the Department of Public Safety website along with PSN.

How do I receive alerts when PSN is available?

PSN and the Monthly Notices are typically made available on the department website on the last business day of each month. An email alert is sent to subscribers as soon as the newest editions are posted. The email contains a link to access the newsletter, as well as a listing of articles in the current edition. If you would like to begin receiving alerts, please contact us using the information below.

How do I access past Public Safety News or Monthly Notices?

Past editions of the Public Safety News and Monthly Notices are available on the following webpage: https://www.montcopa.org/1527/Public-Safety-News.

Elemental Mercury Collection Program

Introduction

The Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection’s (DEP) mercury collection program accepts elemental mercury and mercury containing devices, such as barometers and switches, from private citizens, schools, and not-for-profit organizations. Elemental mercury is the pure liquid (silver) form of mercury, not mercury compounds or solutions such as mercuric chloride or methyl chloride.

Businesses or for-profit organizations looking for information on mercury recycling and disposal should contact the appropriate Regional Waste Management Program at a DEP Regional Office for follow-up.

DEP staff will not collect mercury thermostats. Residents who want to properly dispose of mercury thermostats should visit the Thermostat Recycling Corporation’s website at www.thermostat-recycle.org to search for a nearby collection location.

Safe Packaging Tips

DEP staff will only accept mercury for collection if it’s in a sound, sealed, and safe condition and if the quantity to be collected doesn’t require special transportation arrangements. To safely package mercury, follow these tips:

- Elemental mercury should be in a container designed for liquids such as a plastic bottle, reusable plastic food container, or glass jar with a tight-fitting lid.
- Unsound, unsealed, or broken mercury containing devices should be taped shut.
- Place the sealed container(s) of elemental mercury and/or mercury-containing devices into another sealable container such as an empty coffee can, reusable plastic food container, or jar with a tight-fitting lid.
- Refrain from transferring or pouring elemental mercury directly from one container into another container.
- Store the container in a cool, secure place away from occupied areas of your residence or building.
- Take digital photos of mercury containers to share with collection program responders.

Contact and Schedule

First, contact a local household hazardous waste collection program, if available in your home county. If there is no local program or the program does not collect mercury, contact your DEP Regional Office to arrange an appointment for pick-up. Do not transport mercury to a DEP office location.

Mercury Spills

Mercury is a heavy metal with unique chemical and physical properties that can exist as a liquid, vapor, or within a compound (e.g. methyl mercury). Exposure to mercury can negatively affect breathing and cause corrosive skin burns, birth defects, and central nervous system damage.

Mercury spills rarely present an imminent hazard unless the spill occurs in an area with extremely poor ventilation. The main exposure route of mercury is through vapor inhalation. If metallic mercury is not cleaned up adequately, the tiny droplets remaining in surface cracks and crevices may yield toxic vapors for years.

Plan ahead if you have mercury containing devices on your property by purchasing a mercury spill kit from a laboratory equipment supplier. Trusted links with specific guidance on small spill cleanup and a list of spill kit suppliers are provided below.

Typically, you can clean up a mercury spill of less than one gram, or about the amount contained in a single thermometer, on your own if you follow proper safety guidelines. Mercury spills more than one gram should be cleaned by a trained professional. Contact your local county emergency management agency and the 24-hour DEP emergency response hotline at: 1-800-541-2050 for further guidance, if a spill larger than one gram occurs or if in doubt. If someone has inhaled mercury vapors, call a Poison Control Center or 911 immediately.

Recruitment & Retention Coordinators Certification Course (RRCCC)

Conducted by: International Association of Fire Chiefs
Sponsored by: Firefighters Association of the State of Pennsylvania

March 26-27, 2022   Montgomery County PA Fire Academy
April 9-10, 2022   State College/Bellefonte, PA Area

Background
In 2016, the association’s Volunteer Workforce Solutions team (VWS) won a SAFER grant to help with non-operational issues affecting volunteer departments. Web-based trainings were built and a two-day, instructor-led course was developed. In 2019, the International Association of Fire Chiefs (IAFC) rolled out the Recruitment & Retention Coordinators Certification Course (RRCCC).

The main idea behind the in-person class is to exercise the foundational knowledge found in the online coursework and to allow students to go back to their hometown with a plan that is specific to their department. The class features no lecture and no instructor presentations. Its focus is on placing the student in the role of the Recruitment & Retention Coordinator (RRC) through class discussion, group exercises, and role-playing.

Coursework
The RRCCC’s goal is to ensure those who are certified are prepared in two important aspects. First, they understand, at the task level, what is involved in meeting, connecting with, and recruiting and retaining quality people. Second, at the strategic level, they understand how to set up and run a successful recruitment and retention program. To meet this, students are exercised in these areas:

- The Membership Lifecycle
- Understanding Your Pool of Volunteers
- Answering Common Resistance to Volunteering
- Successful Job Fairs
- Presenting to Leadership
- Onboarding New Members for Long-Term Success
- The R & R Plan Process

* The Elevator Speech
* Designing a Marketing Plan
* Surveying Your Members
* Interviewing for Quality
* Building Your Department-Specific R & R Plan

"to offer students in the way of experience, problem-solving capabilities and new ideas. The learning modules completed online prior to the training were really well done."

Pricing
Instructors are nationally known in the recruitment and retention arena. They travel to the course location, and this can lead to varying prices.

The course is free. A $100 registration fee is required, but is returned upon your participation in the class.
